OFFICERS ESTIMATE THREE SHELLS PER MINUTE FELL ON EVERY YARD OF THOUSAND YARD FRONT.

SPECULATE ON RUSSIANS' EFFECT

Eastern Capitals Speculating as to What Turkey, Rumania and Greece Will Do Since Russians Have Had Such Phenomenal Success With Drives During Allied Offensive Move.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BRITISH ARMY IN THE FIELD, July 27.—The British went after Delville Wood again today and took it. So commonplace has the continual bombardment become that one officer complained that he was awakened by the lull last night. Counting the front as 1,000 yards, officers computed that three shells per minute fell upon each yard of the ground, during the most violent attack. The purpose of these tornado blasts was to leave nothing standing, or nothing living. The British found on the field 160 Germans, mostly wounded, who had survived the bombardment, which left them stunned and hugging the bottom of shell holes or the remains of trenches.

Morale of Russ Successes Cause Interest.

LONDON, July 27.—There is much comment in the Eastern capitals on the effect the loss of the last great Turkish fortress in Armenia is liable to have on Constantinople. The Turks are said to be fleeing from the region of Erzincan because of the exhaustion of their supplies of ammunition. There is also speculation as to the effect the Russian successes toward Brody, opening the road to Lemberg, will have on Rumania and Greece. The Associated Press has learned that there is no longer any likelihood of any attack on the Entente forces at Saloniki.

The Russian War Minister, Russky Slovo, desires to dispel the illusion that the war can end in autumn. He admits that the German technique is so high that Germany can still offer strong resistance.

The defense claimed that the facts of the case were not sufficient to warrant trial in the Amarillo County Court.

NEVADA ELEPHANTS SEE BIG VICTORY

WOMAN'S SHEEP AND SUGAR VOTE EXPECTED TO SWING VICTORY.

GENO, Nev., July 27.—The Nevada primaries which are to be held one week from next Tuesday, will be the signal for the real opening of the hottest political campaign in the history of the Sagebrush State. For months the Republicans have been mustering their forces and other preparing for the great drive that is to have as its chief object the ousting of Key Pittman from the United States senate and the seating of a Republican in his place. Back of the fight is one of the strongest and most incisive political stories ever conceived.

When Senator George S. Nixon, Republican, partner George Wingfield, millionaire sugar owner, and Senator of Nevada died in 1912, the then Governor of Nevada, Tasker L. Edmiston, opposed the vote to Wingfield, who for some reason knew only to himself, opposed it. A majority of Reno's voters supported Pittman, who was appointed to fill the vacancy which, under the law, would be filled at the presidential election in 1912.

Thus because the Republican candidate to succeed himself and Key Pittman, who had been defeated in previous years in the campaign of 1912 became the Democratic candidate.

There was a bitter political campaign. Pittman is said to have spent a vast sum of money which he had kept a few months before required through the phenomenal rise in Tompkins stock, of which he held something like 100,000 shares. He purchased a daily newspaper in Tompkins, his home city, another another in 1912, and is said to have given financial assistance to others in various parts of the State.

Pittman's publisher was one of the masters of the campaign. Senator Massey with limited means, made a personal canvass throughout the state. Behind him were the Wingfield interests powerful and wealthy, and it was hinted that before the campaign was concluded the money fund would be opened.

This is a strange riding in said to have occurred. Suddenly there appeared in Reno and other parts of Nevada a swarm of Pittman detectors. It was pitifully given out that these detectors had been shadowing the Wingfield politicians and at the first sign of money being spread among the interests behind Massey's campaign, would follow.

According to general opinion at the time, it was Pittman's policy that just for the detection, when the votes were counted, a resounding defeat of Pittman was elected by a narrow majority, but it is reported to have been a narrow victory.

Two years ago when Senator Newland's term of office expired he was succeeded by Sam P.att of Carson, the Republican former United States district attorney and member of a law firm, which included another member of the legislature, Senator Warren K. Billings, who was identified as being a member of the notorious gang.
